

APPRENTICESHIP

SET 8 – C Programming Language

(Managing Input and output operations)

- 1) Write a program to display floating point number with right justification.
- 2) Write a program to display floating point number with left justification.
- 3) Write a program to display floating point number with positive sign with its format Specifier.
- 4) Write a program to display floating point number with Scientific notation.
- 5) Write a program to display a String with right justification.
- 6) Write a program to display a String with left justification.
- 7) Write a program to get a character using unformatted input and print it using formatted output statement.
- 8) Write a program to get a String using unformatted input and print it using formatted output statement.
- 9) Write a program to take a character using formatted input and print it using unformatted output statement.
- 10) Write a program to take a String using formatted input and print it using unformatted output statement.

*****